MEMORANDUM FOR: DDI Information Processing Coordinator
THROUGH: Director, Central Reference Service
SUBJECT: Documents Responsive to Court Orders re
US v. IBM Case
REFERENCE: OGC 73-2119, 12 November 1973, same subject

1. In response to paragraphs 3 and 4 of referenced memorandum, CRS has:

a. Reviewed the CRS listing of classified documents prepared on 13 April 1972 in response to the Executive Director-Comptroller's memorandum of 4 April 1972 to determine 1) whether the descriptions of the documents are adequate for IBM to determine their probable relevance and 2) whether the listing is unclassified or could be revised to be unclassified.

b. Examined all the classified documents on the CRS-prepared list to determine if any of them could be declassified, sterilized, summarized in unclassified form or otherwise made acceptable for examination by the defendant (IBM) without disclosing sensitive information.

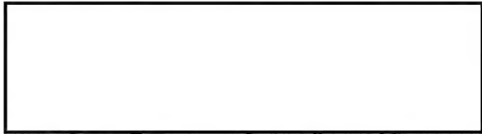

2. It should be noted that the CRS list prepared on 13 April 1972 contained 135 items of which only 11 were cited in the subsequent ADDI memo of 14 April 1972 to the General Counsel as appearing to fit the criteria for documents to be made available for inspection by IBM. Nevertheless, the entire original CRS list was re-examined by the undersigned with the following conclusions:

a. The descriptions of the documents should be adequate for IBM to determine probable relevance, and the list can be treated as unclassified.
